President's Message

Here it is July and time for the 1996 Nationals. Hopefully you have already pre-registered and have made your hotel reservations, because this is going to be one of the best.

This will be my last President's Message as I'm not going to run for President again. I feel it is time for someone else to fill this position. We periodically need new blood with new ideas and goals to make the FCA continue to grow and get better and better.

I've had a ball serving you for the last 6-1/2 years. I'd like to thank all the Board of Directors, Officers and members who have helped me during these years. The FCA wouldn't be where it is today without all your help and support.

Diane and I love this club, the Falcons and all of you, so you'll be seeing just as much of us as you did while I was President.

Take care and see you in Springfield.

Jim Hatcher, FCA President

Chapter News

The Southeast Chapter held its May meeting at the home of Lynn and Sara Moon. There were 12 members present. Upcoming events that were discussed included a picnic to Taladegha, Alabama, on June 8 with everyone brining a picnic lunch and doing some sightseeing; and some members plan to attend a show in Murfreesboro, Tennessee.

Twenty-two members and guests attended the May meeting of the Carolinas Chapter. Their annual all Falcon show at Town & Country Ford was a success. Some members attended the Florida Suncoast Regional and reported the weather was great. Other items discussed were their 2nd Carolinas Regional in September, upcoming outings (a mountain trip for a picnic and a joint meeting with the Blue Ridge Chapter in Greer, South Carolina) and shows.

The Erie Canal Chapter held their most recent meeting at Beverly and Roger Grove's home. They are planning a joint meeting with the Ontario Chapter in August at Darien Lake State Park.

A progressive dinner instead of a regular meeting was held recently by the Gateway Chapter. Everyone had a good time. They are eagerly working on plans for their 3rd annual All Ford Show to be held on October 6. The chapter lost one of its chater members, Larry Henderson, recently, and he will be greatly missed by all.

Shoney's in Kansas City, Missouri, was the location of the most recent meeting of the Mid America Chapter. There were 22 members present with two Falcons driven. Plans are being made to attend the Nationals in Springfield, Missouri. Elected to serve as officers for 1996-1997 were Rick Dilks, president; Dave Kile, vice president; Barry Fischer, secretary; Phil Warren, treasurer; and board members Wayne Johnston (1 year), Kevin Barnes (2 years), Arnold Morginson (3 years), and Leon Grantham (4 years). Regular meetings are the first Friday of the month at various locations.

The River City Chapter had five Falcons and 11 people attend the Budweisser Brewery tour in Fairfield. Afterward they ate lunch at a nearby baseball field. Everyone had a good time and was fascinated by the tour. At their April meeting they discussed their upcoming 6th Regional Meet.

Letter

to the Editor

Dear Fellow FCA Members,

Greetings from Scotland. I am writing in response to the article on emission control in New Jersey. I sent copies to interested parties here in Britain, and Ben Klemengson, News Editor of Classic American magazine, replied that he had heard about it, and it is just a great big HOAX! He sent me a photo copy of an article about this hoax, taken from Old Cars, Dec. 1995, and I enclosed the copy he sent me. I hope it will put people's minds at rest.

I am afraid my own 1963-1/2 Sprint convertible is still in bits, as I fell on ice in December and broke my wrist. I have just recently been able to start work on it again, so it looks like it won't be ready this year.

I will be attending the FCA Convention in Springfield, MO, in July, so hopefully I'll see y'all there.

All the best to everyone,
Len Small

Old car drivers scared by flier in New Jersey

by Gerald Perschbcher

Citizens of Morris County, New Jersey, were scared by warnings carried in a "mystery flier" that was circulated across the country in the Fall of 1995. The flier stated that New Jersey has passed a vehicle confiscation law that would force older cars off the roads. At threat was the old car hobby, too, the flier indicated.

Officials tracking down the source of the flier have not been able to pinpoint its origin. But reaction to the flier's distribution brought headlines in an area newspaper and resulted in an official response from the state's Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV).

In the flier, it was noted that motor vehicle inspections would cost $24 and be conducted at centralized locations. The DMV response said that there would not be a charge for vehicle inspections and that they are to take place at all state inspection stations.

The flier further claimed that the new testing process would fail 60 percent of all cars and 97 percent of those failing will be denied registration renewal, at least until repairs are made. The DMV responded by saying s are expected that 30 percent of all cars are expected to fail the new tests, which is up seven percent from the 23 percent figure. A motorist is to receive waivers if the vehicle fails a second emissions test after paying for repairs. While the Federal government allows only a three percent waiver rate, New Jersey officials say that they are willing to go beyond that ceiling.

The flier aimed at collector cars and hot rods, saying that the hobby is "history." The DMV says that cars over 20 years old are to be exempt from inspection when they are driven less than 2,000 miles annually. However, a collector car can be driven up to 5,000 miles by passing the old emissions test.

The fax machine was used for distribution of the flier to selected businesses. Stella Pyrtok-Blond, who lives in New Jersey and is an activist against restrictive emissions legislation, denies that she was involved in the flier's distribution. When asked by local media, she defended the information in the flier and warned that the law very well could take hobby cars off the street.

The state appears to be giving a concession to cars made in 1981 and before. If those older vehicles fail the emissions testing, owners will be asked to spend up to $75 for repairs before the state would grant a waiver on the test results for the year. Owners of newer cars would have to reach the $200 point in repair costs for bad emissions before a waiver would be granted. An official with the DMV said that it is hoped New Jersey will be allowed to keep its waiver standards and that the Environmental Protection Agency will be more open to such state action.

The risk for older cars may be higher due to carburetors. Oxide gases from nitrogen, which are pollutants, are produced with less frequency in a gas delivery system with fuel injection. However, a tune-up may be all that is needed on the older vehicles before they are able to pass New Jersey regulations.

A scare tactic seemed to prevail in the mysterious flier in New Jersey. One claim was that vehicles will be checked by remote sensing devices placed along highways throughout the state. Some hobbyists have been reading this as an attempt by officials to turn the state government toward a police state. A DMV official countered by saying remote sensing devices will not be used in New Jersey and that drivers would not find tickets in the mail. However, some cars may be pulled over and given roadside emissions tests so that drivers would know they should have their vehicles repaired to comply.

In response from the New Jersey Freedoms Network (NJFN), which has been monitoring the legislative uproar in light of emissions testing, the flier was said to contain a 75-percent accuracy rate reflected in current legislation. The NJFN notes that, according to a graph from EPA, there is expected to be an 80-percent failure rate for vehicles that are 10 years of age or older, a 50-percent failure rate for those six years and older, and a 30-percent failure rate for those five years and older. As for the testing equipment, cost estimates have risen between $80,000 and $140,000 for a single site.

One hobbyist expressed concern that distribution of flyers containing insufficient data or unsubstantiated claims may cause the public to grow cold over news of emissions controls as part of a "cry wolf" syndrome.

CLASSIC AMERICAN

m a g a z i n e

Leonard Small

Dear Mr Small,

Thankyou for your letter, and the photocopy of the article from the Falcon Club of America referring to the 'enhanced emissions inspections' mooted in New Jersey. This is not the first time I have seen this document and to be honest with you, in my personal opinion it is nothing more than vicious scare-mongering.

As you know Americans take their civil liberties very seriously, as they do their cars, the implication of legislation which violates both is unconscionable. These are strange times in America with great mistrust felt by significant sections of the population toward the government, viz. Waco and the Oklahoma bombing.

There are a great deal of fringe organisations in the US whose soul purpose seem to be to poison the general public against government (reference to "Soviet or Nazi style police state" only confirms this impression). Conspiracy theories are constantly being cooked up: Telling Americans that the government is not only going to take their cars from them, but can violate their property rights too just sounds too much.

The rather mundane reality of the matter is that most state government's can ill afford this type of legislation, it would be too expensive, too unpopular and virtually impossible to administer. But that is my personal opinion, I still think it is a very interesting, possibly disturbing development, and as such will be featuring your letter in the letters page, in the hope it will provoke a response from other readers out there.

I was very, very interested in your letter regarding your car as I myself am about to negotiate the purchase of a 1964 Ford Falcon Futura convertible. It is in a pretty dilapidated state and I am scratching my head as to where to even start getting it done up. Could you possibly pass on the address of the Falcon Club of America to me and share any contacts you know of in the UK who deal exclusively with Falcons? Unfortunately I shall probably have to farm it out to be worked on as I neither have the time nor the expertise to work on it myself. Look forward to hearing from you,

Yours Sincerely

Ben Klemenzson

You're Invited to Charlotte, NC

The members of the Carolinas Chapter extend a warm invitation to all members of the Falcon Club of America to attend the Carolinas Fall Regional Meet 1996 to be held in Charlotte, North Carolina, on September 20 and 21.

Last year's theme was the racing heritage of the Rallye Falcons, and this year they are exploring the drag racing heritage of such legendary cars as the 1965 "Daddy Warbucks" gas machine as built by Holman and Moody and driven by Phil Bonner.

The Meet logo on the front of the T-shirt is colorful with a fabulous rendering of Phil Bonner's "Daddy Warbucks, the Man, the Myth, the Legend." As an added bonus, on the back is a large Holman and Moody "Competition Proven" logo in red and black.

A drawing for a 19" remote color TV will be held for registrations received prior to August 16, 1996.

Charlotte is just large enough to provide fun things to do, and there are excellent restaurants close by. The hotel is conveniently located just off of Interstate 77, and the staff is looking forward to having the FCA back. In fact, the banquet chef still owns a Falcon, and he says he can't wait to see the whole back lot full of Falcons again. Let's not disappoint him.

Plan that fall getaway now in the "Queen City of the South." The leaves should be turning colors on the Blue Ridge Parkway by then, so come along and make a full week of it!

Load on Parts Car

1964 Falcon Station Wagon 4-Door. Missing engine (was 6 cyl). Automatic. Vintage burgundy color. Tailgate, front clip, LH doors, bumpers, ALL glass good. No parts show quality but real nice — RH front door has some rust, RH rear doesn't; LH fender has some small crease-type dents. Rear quarters look okay. Car atop pile of three - couldn't see inside. Car is located at P & E auto Salvage, 2821 Electronics Dr., Melbourne, FL 32934 — 407/254-9717.

Submitted by Rick Barkely — "I don't know the folks at P & E, nor do I stand to make any money off this car - just trying to help out fellow 'Falcon people'." Would be glad to help with parts removal and shipping for what it costs.
